The Soundtrack of The Star

Make it a Summer
Night to Remember

Santa Ana Star
CASINO · HOTEL

I love a great movie soundtrack. Within seconds of hearing a favorite song, you're right back in the story, feeling the excitement, suspense, or joy all over again. Last week, I took a walk through Santa Ana Star, closed my eyes, and listened to the soundtrack of The Star.

It began with cheers echoing across the casino floor as jackpots hit and cards fell just right. Moments later, the overhead speakers announced another Friday night drawing winner, followed by the unmistakable scream of someone hearing their name called. That's a sound that never gets old.

As I wandered into Quezada's Cantina, sizzling steak fajitas, crunchy tortilla chips, and ice-cold margaritas made my mouth water as I looked over the dinner menu, a greatest hits collection of my favorite New Mexican and cantina classics. Live music drifted out of Lounge 54 while friends laughed, couples danced, and conversations filled the room. Over at Juniper Steakhouse, birthday celebrations mixed with the sound of cocktail shakers behind the bar.

The soundtrack continued throughout the property. The relaxing bubbles of the hotel's hot tub gave way to the thunder of bowling balls crashing into pins at Starlight Bowling. Everywhere I walked, there was movement, celebration, and the kind of energy that makes every visit feel a little different.

September is ready to add a few new tracks to The Star's soundtrack. I hope you'll join us, take it all in, and become part of the music. I think you're going to love what you hear.

All the Best,
